Date- 10th December, 2021

The Department of Folklore and the department of Geography of Nonoi College organized a sensitization program on "Human rights and child abuse" on 10th December 2021 on the occasion of Human Rights day at Rangaloo with the help of some local folks. All the faculty members of Geography and Folklore Department and 50 of its students were present there. Human rights is such a thing that even after more than six decades of our country's independence we still do not know our rights. Awareness and sensitization is very important for that," said Mr. Ranjit Kumar Saikia while delivering his address to the audience. Lack of awareness about human rights in the country and the need to change people's mindset were some of the key points raised by Assistant professor of Geography department of Nonoi College, Mrs. Meri Rani Devi during a day-long sensitization. The faculties of the Department tried to convey the sensitivity of the matter of human rights and child abuse. The local people cooperated in the program. This was the first such awareness programme on human rights conducted by Nonoi College in the college and nearby village and it attracted an audience of people from different backgrounds including farmers, Workers, NGOs, citizens, students and activists alike.
